Faris Gets 120 Votes in Nodaway County

Monroe Township Gives 66 To Dry Candidate For Senator.—11 Socialist Votes Cast.

Herman P. Faris of Clinton, a candidate for United States senator for the long term on the Prohibition ticket, received 120 votes in Nodaway County according to the canvass of Tuesday's vote by the county court today. This is more than a third party candidate has received in this county for a number of years and was probably due to the conviction of many voters that both the Democratic and Republican candidates were wet.

Monroe township gave Faris 66 votes; South Independence, 17; Polk, 10; North Independence, 6; Hughes, 4; North Grant 4; North White Cloud 3; Washington, 2; Jackson, 2; North Lincoln, 2; South Jefferson, 1; Nodaway, 1.

For the short term for senator, Faris received 19 votes. His name was not printed on the ticket and had to be written in.

Robert D. Morrison, candidate for United States senator on the Socialist ticket, received 11 votes in Nodaway County.

Others receiving votes at Tuesday's election were Miss Frances Miller, clerk of the probate court, for probate judge, 1 vote in the second ward in Maryville; and Ed Coleman 1 vote for the same office in the first ward here.

William Cox, Socialist-Labor party candidate for senator, received two votes.

For superintendent of schools, C. H. Harrison, Socialist, received 10 votes; and E. T. Middlecoff, Socialist-Labor candidate, 2 votes.

NO RECORDS IN OCTOBER

MONTH WARMER THAN NORMAL, BUT NOT EXTREME.

DOUBLE USUAL RAIN

1897 Holds Record for Hottest Day, While Coldest Was October 30 of Last Year.

October was a warmer month than the normal October, and there were no temperatures extremely high nor extremely low, according to the records of J. R. Brink, official weather observer for Maryville.

The mean temperature for the month, according to Mr. Brink's figures, was 44.3, while the normal is 34.3.

The thermometer recorded its highest reading on October 8, when the mercury reached 79. This was cool, however, in comparison with the 99 degrees recorded for October 14, 1897.

The lowest reading last month was 26 degrees, which was summery if one considers the low record of October 30 of last year, when the mercury fell to 2 degrees.

Percipitation was double the normal, but it did not set a record. The total for the month was 5.44 inches, and the normal 2.67 inches. The highest October precipitation on record is 7.47 inches in 1911, while the driest was in 1924, when only .07 inch fell.

There was "a trace" of snow in October, Mr. Brink said. This was not unusual, however. The October of 1898 holds the record for snow with a total of 12 inches.

Agriculture Is Basic Industry—Fleetwood

County Agent Speaks to Vocational Students at High School.— Urges Lower Costs.

Agriculture in Nodaway county was the subject of a talk given this morning by J. Ross Fleetwood, county farm agent, before the Vocational Agriculture club of Maryville High School.

Mr. Fleetwood pointed out that agriculture is the basic industry of the United States, and that all the wealth of the world comes through mining and cropping the land. He illustrated by graphs how packing plants, automobile factories and other great industries depend upon the farmer to keep them going.

The United States produces more food than its consumers handle, the county agent said, arguing that the unit cost of production must be lowered.

The vocational agriculture boys are practicing yells and songs to be used at the American Royal Live Stock Show at Kansas City November 15, 16 and 17, which several of them plan to attend.

Plat of Cemetery Addition Accepted

New Portion of Oak Hill Burial Ground Contains 150 Lots.—Skating Rink License Is Granted.

With acceptance of a plat by the City Council, the tract of ground purchased by the city some time ago and recently beautified was formally added last night to Oak Hill Cemetery, the city's burial ground.

The new addition fronts on the paved road leading north from Maryville. It was graded last spring, and a planting program carried out.

The tract is 330 by 262 feet. The plat adopted by the council divides it into 150 lots, each 11 by 21 feet. The lots will be sold for $100 each. In the older part of the cemetery, the lots are valued at $25 and $50, according to location.

The council last night also granted a license to John Allen to conduct a skating rink over two storerooms on the east side of the square. A similar application made by S. J. LeMay was refused because of an ordinance which requires that such licenses be granted only to residents of Maryville.

A few additional bills were allowed and the council adjourned to meet again at the call of the mayor.

Sickels Child Here Today.

Mrs. J. R. Sickels and son, Jimmie, came today from Kansas City, where the latter recently underwent an operation at the Trinity Lutheran Hospital there. They were accompanied here by Mrs. Sickels' father, Dr. C. C. James, who went to Kansas City Wednesday afternoon. The little boy's condition is very satisfactory.

A Gravel Surface For Depot Street

Burlington Railroad, Property Owners and City Co-operate in Improvement From First to Third.

With the assistance of the city, the Burlington Railroad and the property owners on the other side of the street, Depot street between First and Third streets is being surfaced with ten inches of gravel.

The street was heavily cindered about two years ago, but heavy hauling of road construction materials made deep ruts. The gravel now is being placed on top of the cinders, and it is expected to make an excellent street.

GANTT AHEAD BY 810 VOTES

TWENTY-EIGHT PRECINCTS STILL ARE UNREPORTED.

MAY INCREASE LEAD

Race Is Closest In Mussouri's Political History for Many Years.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—Judge Ernest S. Gantt, Democrat, has a lead of 810 votes over his Republican opponent, Judge Robert W. Otto, in their race for judge of the Missouri Supreme Court, on the face of returns tabulated this afternoon.

With only twenty-eight precincts still unreported, twenty-six of them nominally considered Democratic, Gantt's vote was 484, 692, and Otto's 483,882.

The race, the closest in Missouri's political history for many years, will not be definitely determined until after the official count.

Friction Over Refusal to Let Russian Enter

Borah Objects to State Department's Ruling Prohibiting Soviet Minister to Mexico Crossing U. S.

Washington, Nov. 5.—New friction between Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, and the State Department seemed imminent today as a result of the department's action in refusing Mlle. Kollontai, Soviet minister-designate to Mexico, permission to cross the United States enroute to her new diplomatic post.

Senator Borah refused to make any definite statement on the case today. He intimated he might make a formal statement later.

Borah opposed the government's action in refusing to admit the Hungarian Karolyi, and Shapurji Saklatvala, Hindu member of the English Parliament, who, like Mlle. Kollontai, were refused passports on grounds of Communistic beliefs.

Officials of the Mexican embassy refused to comment on the situation.

Special Session of Senate Seems Unlikely

Impeachment Charges Against Federal Judge English Probably Will Be Dropped Following His Resignation.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The United States Senate probably will forego its special session, scheduled to begin next Wednesday, for the trial of impeachment charges against Federal Judge George W. English of the eastern Illinois district.

Senate leaders meeting here today believe the Senate will only meet Wednesday and immediately adjourn without transacting any business until the regular session is started December 6.

That is the only course open to the upper house under its rules, parlimentarians agreed.

The Senate itself must finally determine whether English shall be tried despite his resignation, but Senators generally believe it will be unnecessary to proceed with the trial.

Funeral for Baby Is This Afternoon

Lawrence Nelson, 11-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chappell, died about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Chappell home on South Hester street. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Price Funeral Chapel and burial was in Oak Hill cemetery. Besides his parents, the baby is survived by two brothers and a sister. The Rev. R. A. Mitchell of the M. E. Church, South, officiated.

NO TRUE BILLS FOUND BY BODY

GRAND JURY WAS FINALLY DISCHARGED THIS AFTERNOON.

FOR LEVY INCREASE

To Relieve the Bad Road Conditions —Praises the County Farm and County Jail.

The grand jury which has been in session nine and a half days during this term was finally discharged about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon by Judge John M. Dawson when they presented a written report about the county farm, the county jail and a recommendation to the county court to increase the levy for road and bridge purposes 10 cents on the $100 valuation. The grand jurors brought in no true bills this afternoon.

This grand jury reported four true bills or indictments about three weeks ago. All of them were for minor offenses. A large number of witnesses were examined, many of them relative to any criminal wrongdoing about the recent bank failures in this county. It was said nothing was found to warrant taking any action.

The report of the grand jury follows:

Grand Jury's Report.

We, the Grand Jury, within and for the county of Nodaway and state of Missouri, beg leave to make the following report.

County Farm.

We visited the County Farm, under the management of Mr. George Brown, and made a thorough investigation of the buildings and conditions thereabouts. Our County Court is to be highly praised for the erection of a splendid home for our unfortunate people after the misfortune of having lost the former home by fire. The New Building is a splendid structure, well arranged, nicely finished, comfortable and was, we understand, constructed at moderate cost. The farm is under most excellent management as evidenced by conditions about the home. The entire building from basement to upper floor was in a splendid sanitary condition, well heated and well supplied with those things necessary to the comfort and happiness of the unfortunate inmates.

County Jail.

We visited the county jail and investigated it thoroughly. Its splendid condition, its sanitary appearance and its repairs bespeak the high management under which it is operated.

Mindful of the Court's instructions when we were organized, we have, with the aid of the Prosecuting Attorney, investigated those things to which the Court directed our attention as far as is humanly possible and our labors have come to an end with the indictments herewith and heretofore returned and we ask to be discharged.

We recommend that the court, in the exercise of its discretion, by its order authorize the county court to increase the levy for road and bridge purposes 10 cents on the $100.00 for the period of one year to relieve the bad road conditions due to recent heavy rains and floods.

THE GRAND JURY

Prominent Politicians Before Slush Inquiry

William G. McAdoo Among Those Summoned To Testify At Arizona Senatorial Fund Investigation.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Several prominent California politicians have been subpoenaed in connection with Arizona's "slush fund" investigation and will be called to the stand when the hearing is resumed in Los Angeles Federal Court tomorrow morning.

They include Harry Chandler, publisher and ranch owner; William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury; and R. H. Ballard of the Southern California Edison Company.

The California men will be questioned concerning charges of Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, defeated for re-election Tuesday by Carl Hayden, Democrat, that outside money was brought into this state to influence the election.

Mrs. Olive Neeley of Rosendale and Charles Fothergill of Maryville were married Monday by Rev. O. H. Loomis at the studio. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cobb. Mrs. Cobb is a sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Fothergill will live in Maryville.—Savannah Reporter.

Says Vare's Election Announced in Advance

Democratic Candidate Didn't Poll Single Vote In Forty-Four Philadelphia Precincts, Norris Declares.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Results of the Senatorial race in Philadelphia where Senator-elect William S. Vare, Republican, was elected, were "announced in advance," even "before any votes were cast," Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, declared in a statement released here today.

"Does any sane, patriotic citizen think for a moment these figures are the actual result of a fair and honest election?" asked Norris, after declaring that William B. Wilson, Democrat, received but one vote in each of thirty-two Philadelphia precincts and not a single vote in forty-four precincts.

"It is apparent on the face of the record that no honest election was held; or, if an honest election was held, the honest results have been withheld. Every man of experience knows that in a contest of national importance, such a result would be an impossibility, except by fraudulent manipulations."

TRENTON MAN IS MURDERED

MYSTERY SHROUDS KILLING OF JACK FREEMAN.

ROBBERY NOT MOTIVE

Money And Valuable Jewelry Found On Dead Body Of Restaurant Man Early Today.

Trenton, Mo., Nov. 5.—No reliable theory has yet been uncovered by police investigating the mysterious slaying of Jack Freeman, 38-year-old restaurant owner, here this morning.

Freeman was shot to death within a few feet of his wife, who was awakened by the shots.

The slain man had about $100 on his person in addition to valuable jewelry, all of which was untouched by his assassin. Police have discarded the robbery theory and are working on the idea that an enemy or enemies of Freeman committed the murder.

Neighbors say Freeman drove up to his home about 2 o'clock this morning and called for someone to "beat it." Shots followed and the restaurant owner was found dead a few minutes later, with two bullets in his breast.

Freeman is said to have made many enemies. He made no secret of gambling for high stakes, it was said by persons here who knew him.

Governor Appoints Democratic Winner

Republican Prosecuting Attorney in Andrew County Resigns in Favor of J. W. Roberts.

Jefferson City, Nov. 5.—Governor Baker yesterday appointed J. W. Roberts (Dem.), prosecuting attorney-elect of Andrew County, to that office to fill out the few days interim left of the term of his predecessor, who resigned effective Nov. 1. The resignation was accepted by Governor Baker Oct. 20, 1926, and he appointed Stephen Fee, the Republican nominee, for the office.

Today Fee, who was defeated in the election last Tuesday by Roberts, returned his commission to the governor saying that he was "incapacitated" from accepting. Roberts, the successful candidate, was recommended for appointment by the Republican committee of Andrew County. His term of office under the appointment will be only until he assumes the office, under the motion for the regular term.

Roberts was elected prosecuting attorney by 155 votes.

Cantonese troops captured the town Thursday. Foreign consuls have summoned their nationalities from cities in the interior to the foreign concessions.

INTRIGUES FACE QUEEN MARIE

SOVEREIGN SURROUNDED BY PETTY JEALOUSIES.

SIX CLIQUES ON BOARD

Carrol and Morris Disagree Over Their Respectives Duties; Hill Also in Controversy.

Aboard Queen Marie's Special Train, in Northern Washington, Nov. 5.—The dignity and ability of Queen Marie is pitted against the ridiculousness of a comic opera situation in her majesty's greatest trial since she landed on these shores.

Entirely surrounded by intrigue and petty jealousies, the queen is depending upon her brilliant personality and her political sense to safeguard her dignity and reputation. She has been told that she must go on with her scheduled itinerary, despite quarrels of members of the royal party, or lose considerable "face" both here and abroad.

Early today, the royal train left Seattle for Blaine, Wash., with principals of six different cliques on board, each certain of his or their own power. Briefly speaking, the line-up is as follows:

(1) Col. John H. Carroll, in complete charge of the train, appointed by the presidents of several railroads to this position.

(2) Major Stanley Washburn, aide to and friend of Her Majesty, appointed by the queen herself, who is in the midst of a violent controversy with

(3) Samuel Hill, Washington road builder, the founder of the Mary Hill museum of fine arts, which the queen recently dedicated.

(4) Ira Nelson Morris, former minister to Sweden, who is authorized to handle all social engagements for the queen.

(5) Loie Fuller, the unknown quantity in the controversy, and Dan Zeuse, an intimate friend of the queen who is said to be directing all Her Majesty's affairs, but who is disliked by

(6) The Rumanians, who consider the fight among the Americans silly, but who carry on long and exhaustive arguments among themselves for privileges of recognition.

The controversy interlocks with a disagreement between Carrol and Morris over their respective duties. There is a coolness between Morris and Hill over the former's occupancy of a private car, although invited by Hill as a stateroom passenger.

Bucharest, Nov. 5.—Confiscation of American and other foreign newspapers which ordinarily have been permitted to circulate in Rumania, today was keeping from the Rumanian public any adverse criticism and other unfortunate incidents relative to Queen Marie's journey through the United States.

But King Ferdinand and members of the government have full knowledge of those phases of the queen's journey. Ordinary channels of communication in and out of Rumania have been under minute surveillance since the first comment on Marie's alleged commercilization of her visit appeared in American newspapers.

Newspapers are subjected to such supervision which has prevented them from printing the facts regarding the escapades of former Crown Prince Carol or of the unfavorable aspects of the queen's program.

Death Penalty for Attempted Slayings

Italian Cabinet Approves Drastic Measure For Protection Of Mussolini And Other Officers.

Rome, Nov. 5.—The cabinet today approved the text of a bill to provide the death penalty for attempts to assassinate the king, regent, queen, crown prince and the premier, and for other specific crimes.

Prison sentences of from fifteen to thirty years were provided for the organization of such attempts.

HARMONY

The families of Truman Young, J. E. Porter and R. V. McKee visited the new Nodaway County Infirmary last Sunday.

The Sunday morning service was especially well attended, the Sunday school getting pretty well back to normal. At the 11 o'clock hour the service was delivered by Rev. J. T. Alsup. The theme was "keeping rank" and a splendid discourse on the importance of cooperation and individual faithfulness in Christian work was highly appreciated by the entire congregation.

The Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Alma Hunt held a social hour at the high school building Monday evening of this week. This class has reached their time for promotion and will pass into the higher department of the Sunday school.

There will be regular services at the 11 o'clock hour next Sunday; the pulpit will be filled by some one probably from the S. T. C., at Maryville.

Carl Johnson and family from Quitman visited last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Ella O'Neal and her mother, Mrs. Johnson is a daughter of Mrs. O'Neal.

John Green bought a flock of about forty sheep at a sale in Maryville last Saturday. Fine thing to have on a farm.

Wilbur Cox and wife made a trip to Ravenwood last Sunday afternoon.

Everett Porter and family were dinner guests at the country home of J. F. Flanary and wife.

President Lamkin made the address of the evening at a meeting at the Harmony Church Sunday evening speaking in opposition to proposition No. 4. It was a clear cut, forceful presentation of the question at issue, and made a deep impression on his hearers. Pres. Lamkin is always a welcome visitor to our community.

Arta Craven was shipping hogs to the St. Joseph market Tuesday.

Eighteen men, neighbors of E. R. Besco, gathered there Monday and shingled the handsome new bungalow cottage that is taking the place of the farm house that burned recently. The women of the neighborhood assisted in serving dinner.

A meeting of the men of this neighborhood is called for Friday evening at the High School building for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Nodaway County Anti-Thief Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Halley Ford were in Skidmore on business last Saturday.

Candidates were thick in this neck of the woods last week.

A large number from this neighborhood attended the political speaking in Maryville last Saturday.

Harmony School Notes.

First quarter's examinations Friday of last week; this closed one-fourth of our school year.

Tuesday evening of last week, Mrs. Estella Porter and her pupils at Champaign (ward three) put on a very successful street fair and community meeting. Some of the features were a museum of antiquities and relics that were very interesting indeed; a wild man from Borneo, King Tut's tomb, fortune teller's booth, candy stand, hot lunch counter, five wonders of the world and a duck hunters paradise, everybody entered into the spirit of the occasion and a general good time was enjoyed. About forty dollars was taken in in the various booths.

Miss Genevieve Anderson very nicely entertained the High School students and faculty at the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson last Wednesday evening. Games of various kinds were engaged in, mostly of Hallowe'en character, and a splendid plate lunch was served as refreshments. It was the "wee sma hours" before the merry company broke up and returned to their homes. About forty guests in all were present.

Thursday there was held at Excelsior, a box supper and community program in connection with a program given by the school. A two act play entitled "A Difficult Situation" was staged by the patrons of the district in a very creditable manner. A prize for the best acting was given to Alva Pride, who played the part of "Uncle Eph." Sales of boxes and other contests made a total of nearly seventy dollars. The evening's program reflects great credit on the teacher, Miss Doris McKee, and the patrons who so ably assisted her. The house was crowded to capacity and good prices were realized on boxes by Chas. Evans of Parnell who was auctioneer.

Don't fail to attend the community meeting at Common Sense next Friday evening.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

Washington—Is Mrs. Woodrow Wilson back in Washington society?

The capital has been asking itself this question ever since her appearance at a tea given just before election by the Women's Democratic Club, of which she is honorary president.

It was a real sensation, for nobody ever lived in stricter retirement than Mrs. Wilson has done since leaving the White House.

Her husband's illness kept her in seclusion up to the time of his death. The period since then has been one of mourning. She accepted no invitations, even informally, from personal friends, entertained none at all, and when she did venture out, went in a closed automobile and took the utmost pains to escape attention.

It was a social tea as well as a political one. It was an invitation affair and a very swell one. In effect, it amounted to a reception for Mrs. Wilson. At any rate, social Washington is wondering. If Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is a part of it once more it's intensely interested.

Whether interested or not in society, Mrs. Wilson does take a very obvious interest in politics.

She's a regular attendant in the gallery either of the Senate or the House of Representatives when Congress is in session. That has been about the only place where it was possible to see her. She steps directly from the door of her house into an automobile, and, at the capital, directly out of her automobile into the midst of a crowd of policemen and attendants, who guard her so jealously to the waiting elevator that it's hard to catch a glimpse of her.

Mrs. Coolidge herself has nothing like so formidable an escort.

Mrs. Wilson enjoys listening to congressional proceedings, which are not enjoyable, as a regular thing, to any body who takes no interest in politics.

The secret in making frosting is in adding the hot syrup to the egg-whites a little at a time. Then as you beat, you control the consistency. Hills Bros. observe this principle of control in roasting coffee. Only a little is roasted at a time. It takes patience, to be sure, but a matchless, uniform flavor is the result.

Controlled Roasting—the exclusive process that has given Hills Bros Coffee its reputation

A REPUTATION for aroma! A reputation for flavor! All because of Hills Bros.' patented process—a process that roasts only a few pounds of coffee at a time (never in bulk). A process that provides for even temperature and constant ventilation.

Breathe that fragrance as you break the seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Taste that flavor as you drink a cup of this matchless coffee freshly brewed. That first savory sip will convince you that there is no coffee like Hills Bros.

Go where you will in the great western empire and you will hear nothing but praise for Hills Bros. Coffee. And back East they say—"That wonderful western coffee."

Ask for Hills Bros. by name and look for the Arab on the can. Mail the coupon for your free copy of "The Art of Entertaining," which tells how to make a perfect cup of coffee.

"THEY CAN'T GET THE MARKET"

The Facts as given in the article to the right were furnished by The Farmers Union Live Stock Commission of South St. Joseph, Mo., to E. C. Moore, Manager of the Maryville Shipping Association.

How often have you heard the above quotation from representatives of old-line commission companies when referring to the Farmers Union Live Stock Commission?

Very seldom does a day pass when we do not get the top of the market in some division or divisions, but it is not a common occurrence to get the top in four departments, as we did on Wednesday, October twenty-seventh. This was accomplished in the sale of twenty head of yearlings, averaging 929 pounds at $11.50, belonging to L. M. Ridge, Agency, Missouri, and eighty head of hogs averaging 214 pounds at $13.05, owned by William Gates, of Jamesport, Missouri, and numerous top sales in the truck-calf and truck-hog divisions.

You have also heard repeated many times that "they cannot make any refund this year," notwithstanding the fact that we have made refund EVERY YEAR since this Marketing Agency has been in existance, totaling a savings at the end of the year 1925, of $535,625.49, and fifty-five per cent of all commissions paid thus far this year has been saved for members of any of the state-wide farm organizations named on this letterhead. You also have in times past heard that "they do not get enough stock to know what the market is," and now you hear that "they get more business than they can take care of," but anything that has been said, is being said or may be said, has no effect upon our unexcelled service.

The future accomplishment of this Agency depends entirely upon the loyalty of its members, and we have every confidence in the increasing support of our patrons.

Maitland Fair in Financial Trouble

Action Must Be Taken at Once to Avoid Sale Under Mortgage. Newspaper Says.

(From the Maitland Herald).

If the fair is to be saved for Maitland, action must be taken at once. That is the situation that has developed during the past week.

For some time there has been talk at intervals of plans for paying off the $5,000 indebtedness and continuing the fair, but talk has been all, and last week the fair directors secured the money due the two banks here with mortgages. If these mortgages are not paid by Nov. 10 the fair ground, constituting about 33 acres, is to be sold at public auction to satisfy the mortgages.

During the past few years the fair has suffered losses, partly due to unfavorable weather, and from general lack of attendance, so that the venture, once the pride of the community, has lost its standing, and unless friends rally to the rescue within the next few days, the end will be at hand. Once before the fair ground was sold but within a few years interest favoring the fair developed again and the ground was re-purchased and the fair continued.

The fair association rules provide for borrowing money on the ground and this was voted by the stockholders some months ago to take care of the existing debts, but the money owed was not secured by mortgage until a few days ago.

It is now a matter of raising about $5,000 by private subscriptions in the way of stock purchases or letting the fair go into oblivion.

The members of the newly established Holy Name Society at St. Joseph's Church at Parnell, last Sunday elected their officers for the coming year. Mr. Ed McCarty led as president, Mr. E. J. Klaas and Mr. Lawrence Roland as treasurer.

With this new society in actioon in and about Parnell, every effort will be made to instill in all people in this vicinity a greater reverence and respect for God's Holy Name and the Holy Name of Jesus Christ, Savior of Mankind. Not only Catholics, but also all non-Catholics should be mindful of the fact, that it is a great insult and indignity to God our Creator and Christ our Savior to abuse and misuse these sacred names in cursing, swearing, blaspheming and all other indecent and immioderate language.—Father Andrew, local director of the Holy Name Society.

M. E. Selecman in Honorary Society

College Director Of Information, Now At Northwestern University, May Write Text, Teach Class.

Merle E. Selecman, director of information at the State Teachers College, now on a year's leave of absence, has been elected to Sigma Delta Chi, honorary professional fraternity in schools of Journalism, at Northwestern University, where he is taking work toward an M. A. degree in journalism.

Mr. Selecman, who received an A. B. degree at the college here, has been accepted as a graduate student and expects to receive the advanced degree at Northwestern after one year of work. He expects to write his thesis on school publicity, and the dean has indicated that it may be published as a textbook. Mr. Selecman also may teach a class next semester in a required course for undergraduates in Northwestern's School of Journalism.

A letter from his says:

"Evanston is a delightful place—if you enjoy spending money. I pay $8 a week for a room (about 20 cents an hour for sleep) and $1.25 every time I want a really square meal. The profs here write expensive books and you can't pass their courses until you have bought their books."

County Nurse Goes to St. Louis Clinic

Miss Edith Cramer of the county health department leaves tomorrow for St. Louis, where she will attend Dr. Nelson's psychiatric clinic in the Municipal Courts building, St. Louis. The course Miss Cramer will take will last for three weeks. The course comprises lectures and demonstrations on the mentality of children and social welfare work.

The course is given to all nurses who are employed by full time health departments. Part of the work is done at the St. Louis Training School for Delinquent Children. The juvenal delinquents under the supervision of the courts also are studied.

Dr. C. P. Fryer, Nodaway County health chief, attended the clinic in May and Miss Margaret Davison, county health nurse, attended the clinic in June.

In speaking of the clinic Dr. Fryer said that vocational education in the schools is the greatest factor for the delinquent child. Most children do very well in school until the sixth or seventh or perhaps eighth grade. Then the backward child that cannot "make the grade' through high school and college should be taught a profession.

"In so many cases presented to us at the clinic, it was the girl who quit school in the grades and who was not taught a profession, who had drifted to the lowest plane."

What Nodaway County Churches Are Doing

World Peace and World Faith

Comment on the Unifrom International Sunday School Lesson for November 7, 1926.
Read Joshua 6.

Wm. Southern, Jr.

In the great apple growing states of our northwest the producers are organized. This organization has succeeded in securing laws for the protection of the group from the individual. If the dread pest which ruins orchards and spreads across valleys and mountains appears, officers of the law immediately take charge. The infested trees and every tree about them are cut down and burned. The unlucky owner many think it is a hard remedy, but those whose orchards are thus kept clean and productive know that it is right.

There are many incidents in the story of old civilizations which remind us of the destruction of the apple trees. One of these incidents is the destruction of Jericho by the Israelites. It was the order of God transmitted through the leader, Joshua, that the city be entirely destroyed, even the men, women and children, that only the gold and silver and the jewels be kept for the common religious use and the use of the state. So strict was this order that one man who hid articles of value was searched out and himself destroyed.

Jericho was at the very entrance of the land which the Israelites were to occupy and which had been promised. It was a populous city, a walled city. It was more than that, it was a pest hole of drunkenness, licentiousness and all kinds of wickedness. It at this time was a Sodom and Gomorrah, so wicked that not even ten righteous men could be found. The Israelites might have marched around Jericho, but had they done so they would have left in their rear, not only a threat of attack, but an infectious plague spot which would have destroyed their men and women much more effectively than the weapons of war. God caused Joshua to destroy Jericho and to sterilize the spot with fire.

The people of Jericho must have laughed and shouted in scorn at the little group which marched about the impregnable walls every day for seven days. In front were priests wearing the robes and insignia of office, trumpeters blowing horns and a retinue of silent men solemnly marching.

The Jericho people were a practical people and could not see how these idealists could accomplish anything by their silly prayers and ceremonies.

For a week now I have been a member of a group of earnest men and women marching around the walls of Jericho. The sound of our horns has not reached very far. Men and women whose hands are on the springs of world affairs and whose eyes are filled with the counting of armed men and cannons and gasses, have looked on us and smiled.

The group of men and women composed the World Press Congress and Association of Journalists for the promotion of a better understanding among the newspapers of the nation and for the happiness and peace of the world.

"Your resolutions are fine, your ideas are good and your idealism is perfect. But," said one European statesman, "you are perfectly futile. You are not practical. The peace of the world can not be accomplished by resolutions." That is the view of the people of Jericho took of the situation when they closed the great gates of the city and sat in security behind the thick walls.

The walls of Jericho fell before a spiritual force and not before siege guns and dynamite. It is the spiritual force, the product of faith that brings down the walls of all Jericho. Joshua and Caleb knew that what God had promised would be accomplished and they organized their attack accordingly.

A problem in all our cities is what we call the red light district. We have not yet found out how to handle it. In fact we know that the cure lies in the hearts of men and not in city ordinances backed by policemen in uniform. There was a woman in Jericho who was a harlot. Her heart was not bad and her story is a classic which we may study and from which we might get some ideas of how to handle cases.

Rahab recognized the two men Joshua sent to Jericho to spy out the city and make his plans effective. The police of Jericho were hot after them. They were hidden on the roof of Rahab's house under flax which was curing in the sun, Rahab then at night let the men down the wall. Her house was built on the wall of the city, and they escaped.

Their report to Joshua probably won the city. They told their leader about Rahad and that they had promised that she and her family should be saved. That promise was kept.

Note now what happened in the lapse of time. In the second verse of the first chapter of Matthew where the genealogy is given, are found these words: "Nahshon begat Salmon; and Salmon begat Boaz of Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; and Jesse begat David, the king.

When we study these stories and read such combinations all worked out in the past it does seem to us that we might have faith enough in God to do the best we can all the time, face what seems to us to be failures and go ahead in the perfect confidence that God knows just exactly what he is doing and that the way he does things and the instruments he uses are far beyond our comprehension or imagination.

There can be no world peace without world faith. When a people become so practical that they consider nothing except those things they can see with their eyes, touch with their hands and demonstrate on the blackboard, they lose the spiritual force which is the force that runs the world.

World peace will not come before the march of armies and the ambitions of rulers. World peace will come when the spiritual faith of all peoples reaches the point of confidence and the walls of Jericho will fall on the seventh day at the shouts of men and women who believe in the promises of God.

THE FALL OF JERICHO.

Lesson Text.—Josh. 12-20.

12. And Joshua rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the Lord.

13. And seven priests bearing seven trumpets of ram's horns before the ark of the Lord went on continually, and blew with the trumpets; and the armed men went before them; but the rereward came after the ark of the Lord, the priests going on, and blowing the trumpets.

14. And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned to the camp. So they did six days.

15. And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the same manner seven times: only on that day they compassed the city seven times.

17. And it came to pass at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, Joshua said unto the people, Shout: for the Lord hath given you the city.

17. And the city shall be accursed, even it, and all that are therein, to the Lord: only Rahab, the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house, because she hid the messengers that we sent.

18. And ye, in any wise, keep yourselves from the accursed thing, lest ye make yourselves accursed, when ye take of the accursed thing, and make the camp of Israel a curse, and trouble it.

19. But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, are consecrated unto the Lord: they shall come into the treasury of the Lord.

20. So the people shouted when the priests blew with the trumpets: and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the trumpets, and the people shouted with a great shout that the wall fell flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city.

Interesting Services at the Churches In the County

AT SKIDMORE

(From the Skidmore News)

M. E. Church, South.

The Revival is still on. The crowds are fine, and the interest is increasing. Three people were received into the church on Tuesday night. We are just beginning to have some visible results. When the ice has been broken, so to speak, then most always we reap a great harvest. Listen friends! Don't release your efforts, but keep on working. The meeting will last all the rest of this week, and possibly all next week.

We will have our Sunday school at 10 o'clock next Sunday. Mr. J. W. Weddle, Superintendent. We had quite an increase in attendance last Sunday. Let us have 25 more next Sunday.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

There will be preaching services both morning and night Sunday. Sunday School will hold at the usual hour. Epworth League at six thirty. Sunday morning will be given to the Administration of the Lord's Supper. The sermon will be brief and appropriate to the ordinance. The Rev. E. L. Robison, District Superintendent, will preach at night.

The Quarterly Conference will be in session Sunday night at the conclusion of the sermon by Dr. Robison.

AT BURLINGTON JUNCTION

(From Burlington Junction Post.)

Christian Church Notes.

It was fine to have Brother Ernest Taggart in the morning service. He is an old friend and fellow pastor of the Kansas City days, as well as former pastor here.

And it surely seems good to have Homer Carmichael in the harness again as Sunday School superintendent. Your pastor has been glad to serve for these last ten months, in that position until he could enlist a capable and consecrated leader. We predict a good substantial advance both in the attendance and in the quality of our Sunday School.

We are in a good meeting at Workman Chapel. The attendance is fine, the singing good, and the interest intense. Mr. Orlo Lincoln of Pickering leads the chorus. There were eight confessions Sunday night and two Monday night.

Remember our Home Coming on November 21. Write and tell your friends. Make your plans large for that day.

Parent and Teacher Training class Wednesday, November 10 at the church. Enroll. There is time yet.

Christian Endeavor at 6:30. We continue to have good meetings.

No evening service Sunday. This will be the closing evening of the revival at the Chapel.

First M. E. Church.

The pastor has been designated as group leader for six pastoral charges, during the canvass for the hospital. The canvass in Burlington Junction will be made on November 15th. There will be six pastors engaged in the canvass including the pastor.

There will be all the regular services next Sunday, beginning with the Sunday School, and public services 10th morning and night. We greatly appreciate the large number of the members of the Christian Church with us last Sunday night. Brother Ragsdale did not have services in town on account of his series of meetings now in progress at Workman Chapel. When opportunity offers we will gladly reciprocate.

Alright, for a much better day next Sunday, at least as good as last Sunday's services were. We want the church to touch every family in the community in a very vital way. Jesus said, "In as much as ye did it unto the least of one of these, my brethren, ye did it unto me."

Come next Sunday,

J. Howard Thompson, Pastor.

AT RAVENWOOD.

(From the Ravenwood Gazette)

We begin a new month Sunday, so let us do our part to make it a success. Remember there is always a welcome for you at our church.

The pastor expects to preach from the subject of "Caverns of Death" next Sunday morning. The evening service will also be worth attending. Be much in prayer that Sunday's services may be worth while.

S. M. BEAN, Minister.

of the Church with a Welcome.

Pickering—Sunday school at 10 a. m. Worship and sermon, 11 a.m. Short meeting official board after the sermon. Song prelude and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

Good Hope—Preaching at 2:30 p. m.

Notes.

Fine attendance and interest at Pickering, Myrtle Tree and Mozingo Valley last Sunday. The address by Mrs. Ford of Maryville given at the Pickering church was greatly appreciated.

The Wesleyan Society of Pickering served dinner and supper election day and had quite a liberal patronage, thus realizing a neat sum.

The men of the Myrtle Tree community to the number of about twenty according to previous arrangement met at the church early Thursday morning and shingled the church building, and the women of the community served dinner in the church basement. The people of Myrtle Tree are to be commended for their enterprise and spirit of cooperation.

H. A. DOUGHTY, Minister.

AT GRAHAM.

The Young People's Class of the Methodist Sunday School at Graham is sponsoring a contest between the boys and girls. The losers will treat the winners with a watch night party. Miss Lucy Black is the teacher.

HOW WE GOT OUR BIBLE

By the Rev. William N. Dewar, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

A hundred years after the death of Wicklif, who was the translator of the first English Bible, William Tyndale was born. He grew up to be a brilliant youth and early acquired distinction at Oxford and Cambridge.

At Cambridge he came under the influence of the great Greek Professor Erasmus and imbibed a desire for the Greek learning that was being spread abroad throughout Europe and Great Britain. This was the period known as the "Renaissance" or "The Revival of Learning." Scholars were setting themselves to the discovery of new knowledge, and through the invention of the movable type printing press, by Johan Gensfleisch (Goose-flesh) or Gutenberg (as he later christened himself, not liking his real name), the new learning was finding its way out into the world.

Under the stimulous of the new knowledge that had been acquired with respect to the original language of the New Testament the thought of a new English Version of the Bible began to stir in the mind of Tyndale. This happened in the year 1516. Shortly after Tyndale went to London and sought the assistance of the Bishop of London in the new project. Assistance was denied him and he had to seek elsewhere. He, fortunately, sought advice from and found a friend in Humphrey Monmouth, a rich cloth merchant. For a year and a half he found lodgement in the home of Monmouth and worked diligently at the new translation. However, having received no assistance from the church and feeling that he would encounter opposition, he departed in 1524 to Germany to conclude the work, having been generously furnished with means by Monmouth.

Arriving in Germany he took up his abode in Wittenberg, the home of Martin Luther, the great German reformer, and the seat of the first Protestant University. Here he completed his translation of the New Testament.

In 1525 Tyndale was at Cologne supervising an edition of 3,000 copies of his New Testament when he was discovered and betrayed by a spying priest, John Cochlaeus of Frankfort, and was compelled to flee for his life. In his flight he managed to take with him the sheets that had been printed and fled to Worms. Here he made a fresh start and succeeded in getting printed 6,000 editions of his great work.

Now that the New Testament was printed it had to be sent to the countries where the English tongue was spoken. If it were sent openly it would be taken and destroyed. Tyndale had therefore to resort to smuggling and his New Testament found its way to England and Scotland concealed in bales of cotton. In this fashion the book came into the hands of the people, even though many copies had been taken by the clergy of England and burned in a pile. Despite the opposition of the clergy new editions of the New Testament began to appear in other parts of the world, and especially in Holland.

In the year 1531 something happened that lifted the ban on the reading of the Bible. Henry the VIII, then King of England, had a quarrel with the Pope of Rome which resulted in the separation of the Church of England from the Church of Rome and the establishment of Henry as the head of the English branch of the Church. More lenient times followed this change but still Tyndale was subjected to the most bitter persecution. After he had completed his translation of the Old Testament he was arrested at Antwerp by the order of the Spanish Emperor, Charles the Fifth. He was forthwith imprisoned for a year and a half in the bastile of Vilvorde and on October 6th, 1536, was brought out and burned at the stake. He died manfully, praying, that God would open the eyes of England's King.

Despite the tremendous opposition he encountered and cruel death he suffered Tyndale succeeded in the accomplishment of his great purpose, which, he declared, in a controversy with a priest, "if God spare my life, ere many years I will cause a boy that driveth a plaw shall know more of Scripture than thou dost." In a few short years this literally came to pass. Tyndale's version was incorporated into later versions that received the sanction of both church and King and were read in every pulpit and home of the realm.

The first of these was called the "Great Bible," the first authorized version. This Bible was virtually the Bible of Tyndale. This Bible was produced in 1539. Four years before that, during the imprisonment of Tyndale, the Miles Coverdale Bible appeared. This was also based on Tyndale's version, in fact it was no more than a revision. Prior to the "Great Bible" the "Matthew's Bible" appeared, which was really translated by John Rogers, afterwards martyred in Queen Mary's reign. This work was Tyndale's translation pure and simple, with the exception of the latter half of the Old Testament.

Tyndale though dead yet spoke in these later versions. His tongue was silent but the written word carried his message to every heart who read it. He was the first great martyr for the dissemination of the written word in the English tongue. He is worthy of all veneration and honor and deserves an everlasting memorial in the grateful memory of men.

A monument has been erected to his memory on the Cotswold Hills near the place where he was born, and on the embankment of the River Thames his bust looks out upon the city in which he could not find a home.

To be concluded next week.

DRAMATIC EVENTS IN BIBLE HISTORY : : By Harlowe R. Hoyt and Walter Scott

The Fall of Jericho.

Once they had set foot in the land of Canaan, the Israelites prepared to capture the city of Jericho, six miles beyond the Jordan. Under Jehovah's direction Joshua began the siege. Seven priests, blowing upon trumpets of rams' horns, marched before the Ark, with armed hosts leading the way and bringing up the rear. Once daily, for six days, they marched about the city at daybreak.

When the sun rose on the seventh day, the procession formed once more outside of Jericho. But this day they encircled the walls seven times. On the last march, Joshua spoke. "Shout," he commanded the people, "For Jehovah has given you the city." As the Israelites raised their voices, the walls of Jericho crumbled as before an earthquake. All of the people were put to the sword, excepting only those in the house of Rahab.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

JUDITH MARTIN, young, red-haired, beautiful, arriving to teach in Pendleton University meets an earnest man who rescues her bandbox on the train, but refuses to enter into conversation with her.

As she steps from the train at Pendleton station, a strange young man giant, green-eyed, seizes her, kisses her and without a word thrusts her into a taxi and vanishes.

She meets black-haired MYRA ALDRICH in her boarding house. Myra is violently in love with one ERIC WALTERS.

Judith avoids the kisser on the campus and in faculty meeting, makes the acquaintance of Dr. Peter Dorn, astronomy professor, who as a stranger had helped her with her hatbox on the train.

In a tea shop with Judith, Myra hears that Watters has kissed a girl at the station, on a bet. She rushes home, followed by Judith, and has a fit of tears.

Learning from the college catalog that Judith is a teacher, Myra goes into a tantrum, accusing Judith of deceiving her into making confidences.

Eric unknowingly signs up Judith's Latin class.

Judith awakes that night to find him standing on the balcony outside her window.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VI.

The man on the balcony took a step backward, but immediately shrank once more against the side of the house.

Judith reached for the window blind, but Eric stopped her. "Please don't make any noise or move for just a minute. There's someone coming up the street."

She stood as though paralyzed, leaning against the window frame, until Eric's face appeared at the window again. "Listen, Miss Martin, I'm sorry about this. I didn't know you lived here.

"Myra Aldrich just told me that if I could shin up that trellis and knock on the window, one of the girls would come down and unlock the door for her. It's midnight and she's locked out. We've been throwing pebbles at your window for a quarter of an hour."

Judith sighed softly. "All right," she said, "but you'd better hurry back down that trellis."

She heard the soft scuffling of his toes against the house as he climbed down. Then she switched on the light and found her slippers. Turning off the switch again, she softly opened the door. The house was a soundless pit, with only a deeper blackness where the wall of the staircase rose, to mark it from the surrounding gloom.

She made the perilous descent slowly, holding her breath between steps. Twice a board creaked, but brought no response from the black regions below, and she went on.

The front door, with its antiquated lock, presented a long puzzle, during which Judith could almost feel the quick breathing of Myra on the other side of the door.

Eric was gone when the heavy door swung open and the girls started back up the stairs without a word.

In Judith's room the flare of electricity, switched on after a moment's fumbling, revealed Myra flung on the bed, where she had dropped after the climb, to catch her breath.

She propped her chin on the iron footboard and watched Judith, wide-eyed and flushed. "Jude," she said after a moment, "you're a peach. After I blew off like that yesterday, too! I've felt rotten about it all day. If I'd been in your place, I wouldn't have opened that door tonight. You see, I don't care what old Stedway thinks, but if I got caught breaking rules so early in the game she's be watching me like a hawk the whole year. That was a slick trick, wasn't it?"

Judith nodded slowly. "But I don't think I'd try it again. It's too risky. You're about six years old, Myra. Because you once knew some school teachers who were prigs, you class us all as prigs."

"I know it," said Myra remorsefully. "But after tonight I can never accuse you of it. Gee! If Miss Stedway had caught you letting me in she's have sent both our names to the dean. Do you suppose anybody could have seen Eric climb up, from the sidewalk? Somebody came up the street while he was up there and I crouched back in the porch shadows so scared I almost fainted. The steps died away and Eric started down. And just as he got midway somebody stopped under the lamp post and a big dog ran barking at Eric.

"Eric ducked over the hedge and got away, leaving me shivering against the door. I saw the man stand staring at your window. Then he called the dog back and went away. That was too tight a squeeze for me."

"Or for me," said Judith.

The Town Tavern drew the greater part of the luncheon crowd in Pendleton, for its booths invited to tete-a-tete, and its thousand island dressing was unequaled anywhere about.

When Jupdith walked into it at noon, the day after the balcony episode, groups were shouting greetings the entire length of th room, and in one corner a quartet of men in freshman caps was singing indefatigably.

Judith was attacking her stuffed tomato when somebody sat down beside her. Turning, she saw Will Wetherel beckoning to a waiter and nonchalantly stretching his legs across to rest on the seat opposite.

Without a word Judith went on eating, as nonchalant in her manner as he. At last Wetherel finished his order to the waiter and spoke to her. "I call this luck. All morning I've been searching the student directory for your telephone number. Called every blessed Martin listed and got sassed and kidded by 12 different women.

"Finally I thought I had you and asked the dame to lunch with me at the Schooner. But after she'd accepted she laughed a horrible, middle-class laugh and I knew she wasn't you. So I dodged the Schooner and came down here. And now I've found you."

"Which proves that vice is its own reward," laughed Judith. "She is probably starving to death at the Schooner right now."

"Oh, no," he replied easily, "Some other poor sap who doesn't mind her raucous laugh will feed her."

Judith looked at him quizzically. "But why did you want to reach me all of a sudden?"

Wetherel made a large gesture. "To invite you to one of the best blow-outs of the year. Eve Gerhart's giving her annual fall party tomorrow night and since I introduced you to her she's been seized with a desire to know you better. She told me to find you and ask you to come with me."

Judith smiled. "What kind of a party is it."

Wetherel considered. "Well, I should say it was the nearest approach to a Bohemian revel that you'll find in Pendleton. It's a fine chance for you to meet everybody in town who has a brain and not too many prejudices."

Judith looked up quickly. "What do you mean?"

"Well," he said, "everybody who has a brain beyond Tennyson and the Old Testament sees what a fine person Eve Gerhart is. The others—such as old Timothy and his gang—well, frankly, Eve is persona non grata with them.

"Do none of the faculty people accept her?" asked Judith frowning slightly.

"Old Timothy scares 'em off. But occasionally Dr. Alex Ward of the philosophy department and Dr. Pillsbury of the biology section will drop in at her parties. Timothy probably thinks they're already so steeped in Nietzche and Darwin that they're damned anyhow, and so he never bothers them.

"I can't understand why the rest of the profs kowtow to him as they do. There's Dorn, now. A crackerjack scientist and really a very good fellow. He knew Eve in her girlhood but he daren't play around with her. Rotten slavery—this teaching game."

Judith was looking preoccupied when Wetherel brought her back to the point at issue. "You'll go tomorrow night, of course?"

Judith considered. "I'm not sure that my evening dress will get here from home. The dressmaker was to mail it two days ags."

Wetherel waved her objection away. "You can wear something else. I suppose some kind of party duds will be advisable. You can rig up something, can't you?" He was picking up the check and rising to usher her from the booth.

"Well," said Judith slowly, "perhaps—." She stopped. In the booth immediately behind them sat Dr. Peter Dorn. He gave Judith one miserable glance and dropped his eyes to his plate as she and Wetherel went on.

Will scarcely put a safe distance between them and the booth before breaking into a guffaw. "Wil, old Dorn probably heard more than he liked of our conversation. Must have heard me say he was under old Timothy's thumb 'n all that. It serves him right for listening."

Myra and Eric were walking across the campus when Judith left a side-path and turned toward the administration booth in which she was to meet her first class 10 minutes later.

She could see the boy bending now and then toward the girl on his arm, with that peculiarly flattering air of complete attention which is a gift of the born squire of dames. She fell back a few steps and entered the building behind them with a smile on her lips.

Three persons were already in her classroom, the elder Miss Remsey, a spectacled youth in shiny blue serge and a middle-aged woman with a pompadour.

Others filed in as Judith arranged the contents of her desk. Some of them gave her started glances, taking in the youthfulness of her face and figure, and the gay simpicity of her green jersey dress. The effect of their surprise was to give Judith added assurance of her role.

At length she stood up beside her desk and looked solemnly at the class.

Someone was turning the knob of the door from the outside, but Judith only stiffened slightly, without turning her head.

"We will try the opening passage of the first ode at sight," she said.

Then she met the dilated green eyes of the newcomer. Smiling with sweet teacherly patience, she handed him her book. "Mr. Waters, will you see what you can do with the first 20 lines?"

Eric Waters looked at her in dumb misery. She pushed the book a little closer to him and he fumbled through the pages and at last began a stammering translation.

(To be continued).

Dr. Dorn must have become interested in Judith, for she finds him at Eve Gerhart's party. Is he trying to save her from the foolishness of her student friends, or is there another reason.

Fitch Takes The Sham Out of Shampoo
WHETHER your hair is bobbed or long—whether you have dandruff or not—your hair and scalp should be kept clean and healthy by the regular use of the Fitch Shampoo.
No other shampoo can do what Fitch's will. The Fitch Shampoo dissolves and removes from the very first application every particle of dandruff and foreign matter, leaving the scalp clean and healthy and the hair soft and fluffy.
The Fitch Shampoo is crystal clear. Every particle is soluble in water and can easily be rinsed out. After a Fitch Shampoo there is no necessity for an acid rinse which tends to dull and discolor the hair.
"There's Beauty for You—in the Fitch Shampoo"
After the shampoo, there is a FITCH TONIC for every hair and scalp condition! For tender, sore, itching scalp FITCH'S IDEAL. If the hair is inclined to be oily, use FITCH'S QUININE OR SUPERBE. To make the marcel or permanent last longer, use FITCH'S LA FOMA.

proves that MonaMotor stands up
Touring makes a motor get right down and work all day. Loaded down with luggage and rushing along in heat and dust, the motor must have first-class lubrication.
Tourists know this. Those who have tried it always insist on MonaMotor Oil.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Wheat closed higher. Corn, however, continued its downward path, while oats was about unchanged in today's trading on the Board of Trade.

Wheat closed ¾ cent higher in all positions. A sharp break in the opening caused by the sag in Liverpool caused eastern traders to sell rapidly and locals unloaded late purchases of yesterday. The report, however, by a Chicago export house of the discovery of rust in the Argentine crop, reversed the situation in the pit where prices had broken as far as 1½ to 1¾ cents and futures mounted steadily to today's higher close.

Commission houses and local traders sold heavily in the corn pit today and all deliveries closed lower ⅝ to ¾ cent.

Oats was unchanged to ⅛ cent lower with spot prices steady.

Provisions closed lower.

Made a Hit With Him

"My wife has taken your medicine and has been wonderfully benefitted. For over four years she has had trouble with bloating and could scarcely eat any food because of this condition. Doctor's medicines did not help her and an operation was advised. Her brother, who is a druggist, sent her a bottle of MAYR'S, and it helped her at once. I cannot praise your medicine enough." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practicaly all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Saws 40 Cords of Wood in One Day

Iowa Man Makes Remarkable Record In Both Labor and Earnings.

Jule Strack of Holly, Iowa, set what is believed to be a world's record for wood cutting when he, with the aid of one boy and an Ottawa Log Saw, cut over 40 cords of fire wood in a single day. When interviewed recently Mr. Strack said: "When I started the other morning I did not have any idea of breaking a record. However, my Ottawa log saw did the work so easily and quickly that I had cut over 40 cords before I realized it.

"The wood I sold at a good price, so I consider the day a profitable one. I could not have accomplished it without my Ottawa."

The Ottawa Log Saw is an invention of H. C. Overman, 3810G King Street, Ottawa, Kansas. Its reputation as a most efficient machine is known far and wide. It can be secured on a liberal free trial. Any reader interested should write to Mr. Overman at the above address for full information.

As experts at Washington, D. C., are predicting this winter will be the longest and coldest in over 100 years, there is a wonderful opportunity open for men to supply cord wood at high prices. Write Mr. Overman at the above address for his special proposition.

BEARCATS IN 6-POINT LEAD

EADS INTERCEPTS PASS ON THE ENEMY'S 40-YARD LINE.

MAKES 60-YARD RUN

Maryville Apparently Has Better of Visitors; Place Kick From 40 Yard Line Fails.

Bulletin

Third Quarter—Maryville, 13; St. Benedicts 0.

An intercepted forward pass, followed by a sixty-yard run to a touchdown by Captain Dave Eads gave the State Teachers College Bearcats a 6-0 lead at the end of the first half of their football game this afternoon with St. Benedict's College of Atchison, Kan.

Eads' kick was wide on the try for extra point.

The only other scoring attempt in the first half was a place kick by Eads from the 41-yard line. It was wide.

The Kansans threatened once in the second quarter when the Bearcats lost 45 yards on two successive plays and kicked from the shadow of their own goal posts.

First Quarter—Lewis kicked off to the 30 yard line. St. Benedicts lost 4 yards on three line plays and then punted out of bounds on Maryville's 40 yard line.

Eads went around left end for 12 yards and first down. Search and Berst made 8 yards through the line. Eads punted and the ball was stopped on the 1 yard line.

St. Benedicts punted but was off side. The Irish punted again and it was Maryvile's ball on the Irish 40 yard line. Three line plays failed to gain and Eads punted to the 17 yard line.

Maryville was off side, and it was first and 5 to go for St. Benedicts.

Hennessy made 10 around right end. A line play failed, a pass was incomplete, and Search knocked down another flip. The visitors were penalized for off side. Maryville fouled on the punt and it was the Catholics' ball on the 50 yard line. A pass failed and 2 yards were gained, around the left wing. A pass was good but the Irish were off side. Voet's punt was short and Eads made a fair catch on his 40 yard line. Eads made 10 yards for first down and Search added 30. Willoughby went wide around right end for 60 yards; Search failed to gain and Eads punted out on the Irish 20 yard line.

Large Number to Hear J. W. Griest Monday

A large number of sales people and merchants will be present at the Chamber of Commerce dinner at the First M. E. Church Monday night, according to present indications. J. W. Griest will be the principal speaker. He will arrive in Maryville from Kansas City Monday noon. In his address here, he will discuss the need of practical training along the lines of community development, co-operation, trade extension, salesmanship, advertising, personal efficiency and organization work.

The Grafton, W. Va., Sentinel comments upon Mr. Griest in the following manner: "He took for his subject, "The Putting of Education into Retail Merchandizing.' From the very start he was in command of his audience. No more stirring address, no more helpful arguments have been presented than those of Mr. Griest before the Chamber of Commerce forum Tuesday evening. He is a man of attractive personality, a direct and forceful speaker and puts each item of his program before his audience in the clearest possible manner. One business man, a wholesaler, declared after having heard Mr. Griest that it was worth $5 of his or any one's money to have heard the address given by Mr. Griest.

R. W. Etter, president of the 7th district Associated Advertising Clubs, Pine Bluff, Ark., says: "You will make no mistake to have Mr. J. W. Griest on your program. He addressed the retail merchants of Pine Bluff in December. He is an entertaining and pleasing speaker as well as a man with a practical instructive message for retail merchants."

Maryville business men and women should congratulate themselves on this opportunity and make the best possible use of it by being present Monday night. Those who have not secured their tickets should do so before noon tomorrow.

NODAWAY COUNTY FARM NEWS

By BILLY TILSON.

By BILLY TILSON

R. L. Peters, east of Skidmore, has just completed putting in a cement floor in the basement of his residence and has installed a modern pipeless furnace. He thinks that later on he will install a lighting plant and will then have a modern home in every way.

T. K. Acklin, east of Graham, is building a modern residence on his farm southeast of that town. His son will move to the farm when the house is completed. Thornt is one of the enterprising farmers of Hughes township and is on the job every day and consequently is adding to his bank account.

Earl Busby, southwest of Maryville, has picked out over 100 bushels of excellent seed corn and will not only have his seed ready for next year but will have some to furnish those that have failed to look after their seed for another year.

George Owens, northeast of Skidmore, is feeding 150 head of hogs that he will soon have ready for the market. He has over 100 head of fall pigs and a fine bunch of brood sows. George says it takes all his time getting corn out of the field to feed them.

Frank Davis, southeast of Hopkins, has commenced gathering corn. He says his corn is making around 50 bushels per acre. Frank has his seed corn all in the dry for next year.

Hugh O'Donnell, northeast of Barnard, was transacting business in the city yesterday. He says with this kind of weather farmers will soon be busy with their corn.

Sam Conlin, north of Barnard, was transacting business in the city yesterday. Mr. Conlin reports some of the farmers cribbing corn and from the reports the yield will not be heavy.

William Swinford and sons, east of Arkoe, and Ray Hurst of the same neighborhood have succeeded in killing fifteen wolves since a year ago last August. Swinford and sons have twelve hounds and Mr. Hurst two. They are trained in the line of catching wolves and when one is started they never fail to get their prey. These wolves have been caught in the vicinity of Arkoe, Bedison and Barnard and farmers of those communities feel very thankful to these men for their splendid work in trying to rid the country of these destructive animals.

Dean Busby, southwest of Maryville, is building a modern hog house on his farm. He is building a large shed on side for the sheltering of his stock through the winter.

Tom Groves and son, north of Graham, shipped out a load of 165-lb hogs last week. They were the "thin rind" and sold for $13.05 a hundred. They have a fine bunch of shoats left on the farm and will have plenty of corn to feed them ready for the market. Mr. Groves says raise your corn and your hogs and if the hogs don't die they will make you money.

Charles and Frank Shamberger were transacting business in Maryville yesterday. They report some corn being cribbed in that vicinity. They don't look for a heavy yield.
